

Level #3 Full Time Challenge

What is it?

The iGo full time challenge (iGo Full) is a complete giving of one's self for the summer. It is a full time outreach job. It is a total commitment to reaching the lost. From morning to night, 5 days a week. Imagine the impact we are going to have on our cities, when instead of allowing ourselves to focus on ordinary things this summer, we focus on impacting our community.

There is a sample downloadable daily schedule that will put you on a path of both personal and spiritual growth, while at the same time making an unbelievable impact in your city.

Daily study, prayer, outreach, door knocking, follow up and Bible studies, is what the iGo Full is all about.

Who is it for?

This challenge is for young adults who will be able to give themselves to reaching the lost. It is for those who take the necessary steps to plan for it, by saving their money so they are not a burden on others. It is for those who will be disciplined and are willing to stretch themselves.

This works best with two people working together (two guys or two girls).

How to do it?

The main objective is to give all of your time to God, throughout the summer. You work off a schedule that will help you maximize your effectiveness and make it a summer you will never forget.

First you've got to plan for it- storing up spiritual as well as earthly treasures.

Save up for it

- What is the money for:
 - Your living expenses such as, phone, eating, gas, insurance, etc. this is based on an average young adult that is not living on their own.
- How much money will you need:
 - The average young adult with basic bills today needs about $400 a month, so if you took a full three month summer, that would be $1,200.

- If you've got sponsors:
 - 20 people at $60 will be $1,200
 - 60 people at $20 will be $1,200
 - That is a full sponsorship, but it is our belief that each individual should come up with at least a half of this on their own.
- This is an average
 - This is an average cost of living. You would need to do a realistic budget on your own to get exact numbers for yourself. This is also for the full three months. You may decide that you can only do two, adjust your budget accordingly.

Full-time

By full-time we mean exactly that. Just as one would have a full-time job or would go to school full-time. You will be reaching the lost full-time. When you are not teaching Bible studies, you're working to get Bible studies. Five days a week, Tuesday through Saturday, Sunday is church, Monday relax.

What will you be doing full-time? You want to be involved with those that are doing the prime time challenge and the weekend challenge. You will be surprised where doors will open up when you completely give yourself to God.

- Total commitment to reaching the lost.
- Going into neighborhoods, praying with people, knocking on doors etc.
- Doing a Bible study at church member's jobs with people they work with. You can do this in the morning before people start work, on their lunch break, or even after work.
- Jails, homeless shelters, even nursing homes.
- Elderly people that are members of the church. This is good for them and good practice for you when you're first getting started.
- Ask your pastor and iGo director for areas you should focus on.

Basic daily schedule could look like:

- 7:30 a.m. Up, pray, exercise and prepare for the day.
- 8:00 a.m. Breakfast.
- 8:30 a.m. Personal study: read the Bible, some of the Scriptures and doctrines in chapter 4 of the iGo workbook, read one of the growth books Also some leadership type books.
- 9:30 a.m. partnership study: share what you have learned in your personal study, prepare to teach, practice teaching, study a chapter from iGo, and confirm plans for the day. If you are not staying together with your Bible study partner you can meet at that designated time at the church.
- 10:30 a.m. Start looking for or teaching Bible studies. This should be treated as a job, 8 hours a day in the harvest field.
- 9:00 p.m. Return home (unless teaching) and plan the next day's activities with your Bible study partner. Write in your journal, Pray, prepare for bed.

Daily work your way through the iGo workbook. Use any and all methods introduced in the other challenges and the iGo workbook as well as trying other methods your iGo Home Director proposes.

This is a process that is continually being tweaked and improved to give clearer instructions and yield better results.
